Finest in Water Soluble Fertilizers

March 4, 2022

To Our Valued Jack's Customers,

We all know the current supply chain situation throughout the world has been stressed. Each day we see changes and adjustments to things that affect our lives. Please know the Team at JR Peters is committed to providing you, our Jack's customers, with the products that your plants rely on.

Now more than ever we are proud to be a United States, Pennsylvania based, family owned, manufacturing company that has been fortunate in having the privilege to produce our Jack's fertilizer blends for the last 75 years.

What we want you to know is we have your back, and at every turn are striving to ensure each and every one of our Jack's Family of Growers will have what they need to succeed. We value the close relationships we have built throughout the years and are determined to continue to provide the high-quality products and technical support that allows your business to be successful.

We will continue to keep you updated on our supply chain situation and we thank you for being a part of our family for this journey.

We look forward to seeing your future success in growing our entire green industry together.
